Empower Growth – IN SERVICE

Session: Message to & fishing for Star seeds – Light workers.

When receiving communication from other realms we must first be quiet within and open in heart. still the noise and just allow the message to come through. Whatever the information it is already there waiting to be downloaded we can only be still in mind and open to receive whatever comes, for the message comes in one single point, one single ray!

Begins: (I am Little Feather)

Greetings, I am happy to bring this to you on this day,

Dear ones we are joyous on this occasion for what is there not to be grateful for, joyous for? The love & the light of a great source is inspiring and awakening those who have been asleep fortifying strengthening those that have been in service.

Empowering those who have been weak,

This session we will do some work with the inner light perhaps increasing your communication skills your telepathic abilities a bit more you may have noticed in resent days an increase in your own abilities and this will only continue & expand as your veils are removed as you once again come into your present your full multidimensional aspect, so while you read or listen be sure to breath & enjoy your inner light if you are capable of experiencing that whatever you are open to receive you shall receive. If you give of yourself surrender yourself to that interdimensional doorway that exists within you many, many things are possible for you, there is a great enhancement for your growth.

This session we shall talk about in service, are there any in service beings reading or listening to this session? I have before me, ascended Masters & the Ashtar Command in their interdimensional craft their vessels casting forth their nets of light into the depths of the 3rd & 4th dimensions of existence, it is by no mistake you're reading or listening to this on this very day.

Truly the Masters, agents of the Creator are now fishing the waters of the depth of this planetary 3rd & 4th dimensional manifestation, touching you, inspiring you calling you forth into the higher dimensions of awareness. They are fishing for star seeds, light workers they have nets that will let others pass through, catch only those that are of the proper dimension it is not yet time to haul in small fries, it is time to haul in that of large, healthy fish (so to speak)

It is an art, for that caught in the nets & pulled forth is truly a great wonder a great blessing a fisherman never knows as the nets are cast forth when they are pulled up what is within and there is that wonderful moment of excitement, mystery that occurs when that net first breaks the surface and you begin to see what you have caught in your net. So, it is with us the energies of source the divine Creator flowing through pouring through now inspiring your awakening.

Yet until we pull in our nets it is somewhat mysterious even to us how many will respond to these activations, to these energetic inspirations & nudging's from within.

It is a time of unification of unity a time of oneness and of unified consciousness it is a time of asking of each of you to surrender your limitations and those belief patterns you have held of yourself, your own separation from us & the source within you. To know we are one & you could experience this directly, this is the processing part of the catch. Many of you have been submerged in the depths of the sea of consciousness hold forth a bit, some of you kicking & flipping, some, of you lying there staring and then your fishermen tell you that, you are not fish at all, stand and assume your position take your rightful place in the universe rise from that 3rd & 4th dimensional limitations and help us in our attempts, help us to capture with our love many, many more. Each of you are being guided contacted internally in many ways some of you are more aware of this than others this awareness will grow if you apply yourself to your spiritual practice the result of this activation and processing is that you shall be fully empowered as light beings, fully capable and indeed inspired to serve in the capacities that you have been granted, been gifted with each of you are unique, each of you have unique gifts to share. We must first convince you that you are not fish, however.

After being a fish for many generations, many lifetimes it is a bit difficult for you to recognize you are sprouting legs & arms a divine continence, it is critical now that you awaken that you go within and contact your own source, guidance, creator. All that we do in these types of communications to us is to attempt to assist you (the listener-the reader) to empower to inspire you to have the ability to contact us directly contact your higher dimensions your God self directly so that the gifts of spirit you have been longing for can pour forth unhindered.

It is like a world in which everyone has been hypnotized into thinking you are fish. Have you seen someone be hypnotized? On a signal they act like a chicken and the audience will laugh uproariously at a human being thinking they are a chicken then another signal will be given, and they will snap out of it not knowing what they have done until they are told they have made a fool of themselves. It could be chicken & it could be fishes the main thing here is that the spell, the hypnosis has been broken and you do realize & come to the full awareness of who you are, what you are, what you are about at this time for now is the time that has been foretold that you would awaken, the winds of grace are blowing it is no longer necessary to wait.

There is a strong wind that blows through your lives, it is the wind of grace, it is your own self-mastery, your own sincerity that teaches you how to trim your sails properly. How to ride these currents of grace, how do you know what your earth mission is?

How do you know what you are here to do?

Who you are here to be what you are to manifest. For each of you are so unique we cannot simply say; all of the star seeds are meant to come forth as channels of the ascended masters, for this is not so, you have the capacity of course to contact us telepathically and to channel perhaps your mission, your service opportunities that which are provided for you, that which you have chosen are in another direction, how will you know? You must learn to follow your spirit, to follow the winds of grace that are flowing through your lives and let those winds carry you into those areas where you can most experience your contact with the divine your own divinity and your own awakening to service. Believe it or not, some of you may not but there is an intense, burning desire within your heart to be of service.

Some of you feel you just want to escape from the 3rd dimension but truly within your heart within your beings there is a preprogrammed energy of compassion, dedication & service that has propelled you into this physical world experience in the first place and you will pass through this level of awareness again on your way out of your dimensional manifestation as you go through into the ascension.

Empower Growth – IN SERVICE

When you are aligning with spirit within you and following that guidance, the winds of grace are strong with you, and you can feel them, you can feel surrounded by you can feel the guidance, you can feel the love in your heart expanding, you can feel that protection around you that empowerment, that strength, that clarity. It is your own harnessing of these winds of grace that teach you who you are and what you are here to do and allow you to do that with ease with confidence let us say.

Have you ever found yourself trying to emulate someone that you respected thinking, if you could only do it the way they do it you would be happy & feel that grace flowing and empowerment, you might have tried to imitate another in their awakening and have done the same actions with different results and not found it was for you, you must find your own way. You are surrounded by guidance surrounded in your daily lives my energies are with you.

Before you can be a fisher of men you must transform from a fish yourself this transformation is on going within you and you have the capacity to continue to quite directly experience your own mastery.

There is no end to the path yet there is a point of self-mastery and empowerment from which you can also just as truly a light worker this is the transformation you are experiencing now.

There is no time when you have perfected it, but there is a time truly when you are able to stand on your own two feet and can cast the nets with us. Perhaps with your assistance we can cast a finer net and capture more, this is a gradual process one that occurs in steps, sudden revelations it is above one that occurs with the speed & directness that you allow by your surrender to the process.

Empower Growth – IN SERVICE

There are often, many prays heard by those transforming to get on with this; please take me faster yet we would say to you that you are the one governing the speed for your own ascension.

It is your dedication and ability to surrender to spirit that decides and demonstrates your ability to handle more energy to be purified to a higher level of consciousness and it must be so of your own free will, so know that we stand fully capable of lifting you into the higher dimensions as an aspect of your spiritual enlightenment.

You control and demonstrate by your levels of self-mastery & dedication the speed at which you wish to grow and to have the awareness of yourself as a light, a light worker is one who knows that they are light. Though they might be housed in a 3rd dimensional frame their inner experience is that they are light & that is all that they are. They witness the light working through them by their own allowing they witness miracles occurring.

It is a very joyful experience, when there is nothing to cling to at that point there is no fear, there is no limitation, there is no ego identity telling you who you are what you can & can not do there is only the spontaneous reflection of divine source consciousness flowing through you and it tends to find its way quite impeccably in the forms it needs to take with the words that need to be spoken with the love that needs to be shared, in the way it needs to be shared more perfectly than anyone can accomplish with there ideas and philosophies. So, open your hearts dear ones, the time is now, meditate, give yourself to the breath, give yourself to the inner light, let this be your source of transformation go beyond the realm of philosophy and ideas, go into the light.

Empower Growth – IN SERVICE

All your attempts to understand spirit the Creator, the creation and manifestation from a mental aspect must be released at that point of surrender to go fully into the light, your fears must be released it is a matter of allowing, letting go, surrendering, trusting, you must test the waters in your own ways some of you have not begun to have a serious practice of spiritual growth, meditation, some of you have gone so far very far. I encourage you to go a bit farther and see what happens, see what happens when you surrender to the inner light.

When you focus your attention within, upon your breathing and let go of the external know that the doorway is within you, the kingdom exists within you and the doorway to the kingdom is your focused attention, all of the ideas & literature are only to point the way to that wonderful experience that is within you, and no one can walk through that doorway in your heart but you.

You can take inspiration from those that have done it before you, those that are doing it around you and if you can guide your craft following the winds of grace on that beautiful current you will succeed in the realization of your oneness of our oneness then we can all have a hardy laugh together at this apparent separation which does not exist which is not real but which many have been hypnotized into believing.

I bid you farewell!

: The Law of Divine Oneness

Everyone and everything are connected in the world we live in. Every thought, word, or action of ours will take effect on others. As everything and everyone is connected to each other subconsciously, we should start thinking about the good in others, and they will think about the good in you.

Example: When we allow ourselves to become who we truly are, we discover our passions and want to provide happiness to others with our passions such as baking, singing, etc
